Ender's Game Introductory Assignment

Themes/Topics to be explored:

- War and violent video games
- Technology advances in education
- Space exploration
- Challenges that "gifted" children face

The class will be divided into four groups, and each group is responsible for researching one of the topics above. Individually, you are expected to:

- Look for an article related to your topic.
- The article may be a national or international news article, an informative article, or a persuasive (editorial) article.
- The article may be from the Internet, newspaper or magazine, but it must come from a reliable source.
- Read your article carefully. Summarize it briefly, and be ready to discuss it with group.
- You must bring your article with you in printed form.

This assignment is worth 20 points.
