

Music, My Love

You excite my soul and make me move
You can be soft and sweet or harsh and sharp
You make me smile, you have nothing to prove
Your melodies so sweet are beautiful as a harp

I can't see you, but you are a work of art
I listen to you when I am sad or blue
When I hear you, you always melt my heart
You can bring people together and hold them like glue

You make me dance and smile and feel free
Words cannot compare to the notes you share
You are smooth as the wind through a tree
For you and your sound I really do care

Your wonderful meanings and notes are so fine
In my mind, my heart and my soul you are mine
